spheres the point of no return is being reached and even time-tested remedies do not appear to work. The present stalemate can be attributed only partly to problems that have a direct bearing on development, but much of it is beyond conventional development practices and manipulate methods of managing human affairs.

Unit-IV

4. (a) Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below :

Our forests are an important source of natural wealth. Covering one-fifth of Country's land area, they supply the timber for the railways, house buildings and furniture making. They also supply us with wood for cooking and the bamboos for paper making. Medicinal herbs also come from the forests. In the olden days, our wisemen and Philosophers had their 'Ashrams' in the forests. These Ashrams were the centres of learning and knowledge. Unfortunately forests were ruthlessly cut down in the past. While the forests are disappearing, the demand for timber is growing. We must therefore protect our forests.
