COMPULSORY PAPER – I CLASSICAL SOCIOLOGICAL TRADITION

M.M.100

Objectives:

Industrial revolution and consequent transformation of mode of production brought out dramatic and traumatic changes in the traditional feudal structure of the societies in Europe through the emergence of Capitalism. The changes that were brought by these events which have had far-reaching effects on the economic and social systems of these Societies that they commanded attention of thinkers, That gave rise to the discipline of Sociology. Different thinkers viewed the societal changes from different perspectives, presented their distinct analysis, casual and otherwise of these changes made efforts to highlight the different features of the emerging modern industrial capitalist society and also attempted to predict the future of this society. Some of them engaged their attention on the issues related to development of Sociology as a Science. They laid down the theoretical foundation of Sociology on which edifice of modern Sociological theories is erected. Besides, they also tried to analyse and interpret other sociological issues such as education, power structures religion and the like. Among there sociological thinkers prominentare Karl Marx, Emile Durkheim, Max Weber and Vilfredo Pareto

Acquaintance with the writings of these four thinkers would equip the students with theoretical insight to know, analyze and interpret the social scenario around them and would also familiarize them with the different sociological perspectives and theories. While teaching, emphasis should be on critical analysis of the writing of these four thinkers.

PAPER- III
METHODOLOGY OF SOCIAL RESEARCH

M.M. 100

Objective:

This course plan aims to provide exposure to the fundamentals of various research techniques and methods (both quantitative and qualitative) it tries to build upon the basic assumptions in adopting different methodologies for different kinds of research themes. In the first qualitative section, it introduces certain philosophical ideas underlying the emergence of different methodologies in social sciences. The second and third sections attempt to sensitize postgraduate students to develop a critical outlook at the existing perspectives and methods and to evolve conceptual clarity, which can lead them in their future research. Teaching certain quantitative methods. Statistical Techniques and qualitative methods to collect and analyze the data would help them organize and analyze the information gathered by them. Exposure to the fieldwork at the post graduate level is intended to enhance the research interests and inculcate the spirit of inquiry among students who may be motivated to continue higher studies in research.

Nature of Social Reality and Approaches to it:

Inductive and deductive, Theory building, Scientific method in social research, Objectivity, Hypothesis

Quantitative methods and survey research- Survey techniques, Operationalisation and research design, Sampling design, Questionnaire construction, interview schedule, Measurement and Scaling, Limitations of Survey

Statistics in social research- Measures of central tendency, Mean, Median, Mode Measures of Dispersion, Standard/ Quartile Deviation

Qualitative Research Techniques:

Techniques and methods of qualitative research, Participant observation/ ethnography, Interview guide Case study method, Content analysis, Application of Computers in Social research

Pedagogy

This course, especially the first section, is communicating the message that methodologies and methods do not evolve or emerge in a vacuum. Thus, the teacher is expected to constantly connect research methods to a theoretical framework so as to explain explicitly the linkages between theory and practice.

Discussions and practical exercise may form an integral part of the course Daily discussion on specific topic among students will provide feedback to the teacher and also arouse the interest of the students.

A field visit may also be organized depending upon the resources, time and convenience. Students may be made to do exercises in class such as the construction of questionnaires; schedules etc, and also test them in the field so as to sharpen their research skills. The section on statistics should also be rigorously explained along with adequate exercises.
